Prof. Stanislava Stojan, PhD

Prof. Stanislava Stojan, PhD, graduated from the Faculty of Philosophy, Zagreb University. She obtained her Master’s degree in Modern Croatian Literature, Inter-University Centre for Postgraduate Studies in Dubrovnik, and her PhD in Philology at the Zadar University. Currently she is employed at the Institute for Historical Studies of the Croatian Academy of Sciences and Arts in Dubrovnik. As full Professor at Croatian Studies in Zagreb and lecturer at the doctoral studies in Historical Demography at Dubrovnik University, she focuses mainly on older Croatian literature and the history of everyday life. Her publications include ten monographs and about hundred research papers. She is a visiting professor at several Croatian and foreign universities.